Review of the Stock Market-Events of the Week.

THE GOLD AND MONEY MARKETS.

Government and Railway Bonds Firm-The Pacific Mail Muddle.

There were two sensations in the market last week-the rise in the Pacific Mail and the fall in the costocks. The first was as artificial as a graven image, but had as many admirers as Moloch of old, who fell down and worzhipped it, not knowing the reason why and caring less, only provided a profit was made. Of course the real value of the stock had nothing whatever to do with the movement, which resolved itself simply into a game of brag between Gould on the one hand and the Panama party on the other—a game with marked cards, too, as shown in the trick of preventing the regular monthly meeting taking place for want of a to drift among the reofs and quicksands of the law courts, when it is likely the wreckers of the Bar will claim as jetsom and flotsom the little value it has left. The belief that the Panama interest has secured the control of the property—a belief that can only be made certainty by the process of an election—sustained the price at the close well up toward the best quotation of the week, and offers a fair starting point for an advance or fall as the maneuvres of the contending parties may to do with a change in values, the directly contrary was the case in respect to the coal companies. After a the times these corporations are beginning to discover that the course of their trade can no longer be controlled by leagues and combinations; that it is one thing to put a price upon their commodity and another thing to sell it; that they may lead their borse to water, but that they cannot make him drink. While the great staples of the country have been slowly but holding to old figures with the utmost pertinacity, and this despite the fact that their trade has been growing daily less, and the prospect of a change for the better farther off than ever. They have been bringing their coals to Newcastle with pon miles of laden cars stretching from tidewater ack into the 'country fully attest. Their trade has simply followed the general drift of business, and has been no more able to escape the blight which is I ang-ing over commercial affairs than that of the merchant or millowner. There has been a picthora of production and a paucity of consumption, and though it may be possible to stop the former it is impossible to increase the latter. Indeed, the outlook grown more unfavorable every day, for mills and workshops are closing up ough all the country side, and reports prevail contemplated cessation of work in such important es-tablishments as are controlled by Garaier & Co. and ther prominent manufacturers.

These stocks, being held off the speculative market and almost entirely for investment, often in fractiona share lots, are quickly affected in price by any change in their prosperity. A lowering or passing of a dividend, or even the apprehension of such a step, brings the stock speedily to market, where, lacking any material speculative support, it is often mercilessly

Such has been the case for the past week, particu larly in New Jersey Central and Delaware and Lacka-wanna, and it is impossible, in view of the unsatisfac-tory exhibit of the condition of these properties, that we have seen the end yet.

tory as ever. An attempt to advance the market was a failure, and, left to itself, it closed with anything but a erful prospect for the future.

THE MONEY MARKET

Money during the week has been easy, the fluctu-Mions being between 2 and 4 per cent on call loans with stocks as collateral. The principal business was sone at 2 and 3½ per cent. Discount rates for moreantile paper have been nominally the same. The fol-

Foreign exchange remained dull as, in consequence of the high rates for bankers' bills and the limited amount of prime commercial effered in the market, gold shipments formed in most cases a more favorable gold shipments formed in most cases a more favorable remittance than bills—Continental commercial bills especially. Reichsmark are more freely offered, owing to the wheat and petroleum shipments. Importers took only a small amount out of the market and most of the purchases were made by the bankers themselves. Rates remained firm, in spite of several efforts made to weaken the market. The only response to such attempts were a decided disinclination to sell. The general impression on the street seems to be favorable to a further advance, as even on speculation 4.88 has been paid for 60 days? London.

Gold advanced from 1123% to 1123%, and afterward re-Gold advanced from 112% to 112%, and afterward reacted to 112%. The temporary firmness in the market was caused by the continued outflow of gold to Europe. The exports of specie for the week footed up $1,519,588, and since January 1 $22,356,278, as against $50,343,442 sume time last year and $17,344,944 in 1874. The receipts of cotton, constwise and by rail, during the week, were 19,869 bales, and the number exported was 31,070. The total receipts since September 1—the commencement of the cotton year—were 3,940,974, an increase of 563,841 bales as compared with the corresponding period of last year.

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

The business of the past week was considerably lower than that of the week preceding. Prices, however, are firm, with an advancing tendency, and investors are evidently selecting this class of securities tor the safe employment of their capital. The declino in several of the investment stocks has been influential in directing attention to governments, and it will not be surprising if the latter take the lead of the market in point of strength and stability.

The sales in this department were irregular, but prices are generally well maintained. The market was dult and transactions restricted. Railroad earnings, a moderate increase during the last week of April and the drst of May. There is a possibility that the diver-sion of traffic from the canals and other roads, in consion of traffic from the canals and other roads, in con-sequence of low rates, may, from the first, secure to a few roads a decided gain in aggregate carnings, al-though a part of the business is done at unremunera-tive rates. Reports of expenses and net earnings will therefore be awaited with especial interest, since mere increase of receipts does not promise good to stock or bond holders if the proportion of losing traffic is large.

The Pacific Mail controversy has absorbed much of the attention of the street for several days. Several attempts have been made to secure a quorum of direc-tors for the transaction of business incidental to the approaching election, but thus far they have been fu-tile. A prominent official connected with tile. A prominent official connected with the Panama company states that under the new direction of Pacific Mail, provided it secures control of the company, the interests of the two corporations will no longer con-flict; and, furthermore, that if an effort is made by the Union Pacific Railroad to cut rates for the purpose of competition, the gauntlet thus thrown down will be promptly accepted and another contest will be initiated. MEMORANDA.

The general dulness in the different branches of our markets continued this week. Imported goods are exceedingly dull, and in the exporting trade only wheat and petroloum show somewhat increased activity. Cotton declined during the week, and was only in very limited demand for export. Thus the influence of commerce in general on the Wall street markets remained still very unfavorable. In fact, there are four elements of weakness that are regarded as at work in determining weakness that are regarded as at work in determining the character of the situation. The first is the precarious condition of Commodore Vanderbilt and the possibility that his death may cause a serious though only a momentary disturbance of the stock market. The accord is the pending railway war and the uncertainty which attaches to its effect on the earnings of the several roads. Third, the contest between the telegraph companies; and fourth, the absonce of all outside support. These facts are sufficient to account for the shrinkage that is taking place and the difficulty of keeping prices up when they have advanced.

Mr. Orton admits that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have allowed the Atlantic and Pacine Telegraph Company to place their instruments in certain offices of the Baltimore and Ohio road.

It is understood that the meeting was anything but harmonious. Some difficulty had arisen some time ago regarding the equal distribution of busifairly. However, matters were temporarily arranged again and no further trouble is expected at present. The New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company have secured a twenty years' leave of the wharf property on the North River, between Barclay street and Park place, owned by the Rhinelander estate. The railroad company have made a contract to build a pier long pier at the foot of Barclay street, adjoining the Hoboken lerry, will be reconstructed and covered by a ahed 600x50. The terms of the contract provide for the completion of the work in three months. This will be used when completed as a treight depot.

CONEY ISLAND.

IMPROVEMENTS ON AND NEAR THE BEACH-NEW HOTELS, NEW ROADS AND RAILWAY

If Coney Island were 300 or 400 miles away and difficuit of access it would doubtless have become long since a fashionable resort. As it is, it is pre-eminently the place for the people, and, like New York's great attraction, Central Park, affords to scores of thousands of the middle and humbler classes relaxation and en-tertainment of no ordinary value. In other years the beach accommodations were very insufficient and police protection was little better than nothing. This year capital and enterprise have taken hold of the island, and before the June days are upon us ample ommodations will be completed, in accordance with well planned arrangements now rapidly perfecting.
THE CENTRAL BEACH

is approached by three railways, two of which carry their passengers right down to the tide line. Already frequent trips are found necessary for the Sunday rush, and next week extra trains will be arranged on time. At the end of the steam railway the company time. At the end of the steam railway the company are erecting a line hotel of the watering place type, large, open, and arranged for promenade concerts, lunch parties and lovers of the festive claim. Leading from the depot toward the solid land is a long, well laid, substantial platform, and stretching on the other side from the depot toward the beach is a second. The latter, were it not for an obstructing gate and platform, would be a continuation of the other, and leads down to the very verge of the water, where is built and but just completed.

would be a continuation of the other, and leads down to the very verge of the water, where is built and but just completed substantial and inviting. Outside the building proper is a long, wide platform, also covered, along which are piaced tables with stationary benches. The building itself is occapied on the platform level by an immense barroom, the other portions being devoted to retiring and reception rooms for ladies and children.

Two other new buildings, dignified by the name of hoties, are rapidly going up in the same vicinity, and there would seem to be accommodation there for 10,000 or 12,600 people on the most modest calculation. The old traditional hotel known to all turimen as "John I.'s," formerly kept by John I. Shediker, was owned by the veteran actor, William Wheatly, and on its broad balcony has year the former manager of Niblo's Garden caimly awaited the coming of the grim archer, as he chatted of times gone by with Brougham, Barney Williams and other guests and irrends. He called his home the Oceanic House, and seriously contemplated an early exit from the cares and sorrows of a bereaved existence. A change came over him, however, and, instead of taking leave of life, he married a biooming widow and shook the dust of Coney Island from his matrimonial shoes. He sold the Oceanic to Mr. Giorgi, who succeeded Mr. Sheliker. Mr. Giorgi is building a broad board path from the hotel to the beach, parallel with a superb drivway, now being made by the Improvement Company.

In other words, New Yorkers who go by steambost, rail or drive to Coney Island, can this year find what they never found before—accommodations for their families, either at the hotels away from the boate or at the several pavillons within reach of the water is too sold to be inviting.

THE COURTS.

TOMBS POLICE COURT.

ARREST OF A SNEAK THIRY. William Drassler was arrested on Saturday night at the saloon No. 150 Canal street, having in his possession a gold watch and chain, valued at $80, which was stolen from the room of Gustave Zimmerman, at No. 137 avenue A, on the 15th inst. The prisoner was yester-day taken before Justice Wandell and held in $1,000 buil to answer. He is said to be a sneak thief.

A DANGEROUS HUSBAND. John Bowe, a German, residing at No. 95 Washington street, was charged by his Irish wife, Bridget, with having beaten her and threatened her life.

"Let him off," yer Honor, pleased Bridget; "I have three children and he supports them."

"Did he ever heat you before?" asked the Court.

"Oh, yes, sir." smilingly answered Mrs. Bowe, "bus. I'm used to it."

"I can't let him go." said the Justice.

I'm used to it."
"I can't let him go." said the Justice.
"Oh, do, ver Honor."
Justice Wandeli was about to discharge him, when the officer said, "Your Honor, this man has kided two wives already. He got five years for the murder of one of them."

Bowe was committed for trial.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT. Mary Smith, of Cherry street, became engaged in a quarrel with Ann Armstrong, of No. 9 Mulberry street, during which abe drew a knife and cut Ann from the orehead to the chin. She was taken before Justice Wandell, at the Tombs Police Court yesterday, and committed for trial in default of $1,900 bath. FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET COURT.

Before Judge Kilbreth. PERILS OF THE POLICE. Officer Herner on Saturday night arrested Brian Quinn of East Forty-fifth street, on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. While taking him to the Nineteenth precinct station house a crowd of Quinn's triends attempted to r-scue him, failing in which they and Quinn assaulted the officer with stones and inflicted several severe scalp wounds upon him. Quinn was neid for trial in default of $500 bail.

POINTING A REVOLVER.

James Mackey, a resident of East Sixty-second street, was fined $10 for pointing a revolver at Andrew Smith, of Yorkville, while partly under the influence of liquor. He would probably have been dealt with more severely had there not been extenuating circumstances in his layor. It appeared that some nights ago he assaulted a notorious ruffian named Thomas Butter, of Yorkville, for insuling a woman on the street. On Saturday might Butter, Smith and others sought out Mackey, who has humself an unenvisible reputation as a law breaker, and would have besten him badly had he not drawn his revolver in relf-defence. Butter is the same person on whose account Thomas Connolly was shot dead at Allen's Point on the East River, loot of Pifty-fourth street, about three years ago, by John Allen, the proprietor of the "Point." Allen was discharged by Judge Barnard, who said that he only regretted Allen had not shot Butler too. Butter has lately figured in two cases of assault and battery in this court.

ALLEGED ROBRERY. James Mackey, a resident of East Sixty-second street,

ALLEGED ROBBERY.

Mary Libby, of No. 504 First avenue, charged John Mulady, of 347 East Thirtieth street, with stealing from her $50 worth of clothing. He is also wanted, it is said, on a charge of highway robbery, the particulars of which could not be obtained, however. Ball was fixed at $2,000, in default of which he was committed for trial.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Heid by Judge Sutherland.—The People vs. Charles Williamson, forgery (continued).

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21, 1876.

Washington, D. C., May 21, 1876.

The following are among the decisions of the Supreme Court recently handed down:—

Enoch Totten, administrator, vx. The United States—
Appeal from the Court of Claims.

The action was brought to recover compensation for services alteged to have been rendered by the claimant intestate, William A. Lloyd, under a contract with President Lincoln, made in July, 1861, by which he was to proceed South and ascertain the number of troops stationed at different points in the insurractionary States, procure plans of loris and fortifications, and gain such other information as might be beneficial to the guvernment of the United States, and report the facts to the President, for which service by was to be paid $250 a month. The Court of Claims finds that Lloyd proceeded, under the contract, within the rebel lines and remained there during the entire period of the war collecting, and from time to time transmitting, information to the President, and that upon the close of the war he was only reimbursed his expenses. But the Court, being equally divided in opinion as to the authority of the President to bind the United States by the contract in question, decided, for the purposes of an appeal, against the claim, and dismissed the petition.

We have no difficulty as to the authority of the President therity of the President to bind the United States by the contract in question, decided, for the purposes of an appeal, against the claim, and dismissed the potition.

We have no difficulty as to the authority of the President in the matter. He was undoubtedly authorized during the war, as Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States, to employ secret agents to enter the robel lines and obtain information respecting the strength, resources and movements of the chemy, and contracts to compensate such agents are so far binding upon the government as to render it lawful for the President to direct payment of the amount stipulated out of the contingent fund under his control. Our objection is not to the contract, but to the action upon it in the Court of Claims. The service stipulated by the contract was a secret service; the information sought was to be obtained claudestinely and was to be communicated privately; the employment and service were to be forever scaled respecting the relation of either to the matter. This condition of the engagement was implied from the nature of the employment and is timplied in all secret employments of the government in time of war or upon matters affecting our foreign relations, where a disclosure of the extrice might compromise or embarrass our government in its public duties or endanger the person or injure the character of the agent. If upon contracts of such a nature an action against the government could be maintained in the Court of Chaims whenever en agent should consider himself entitled to greater or different compensation than that awarded to him, the whole service in any case and the manner of its discharge, with the details of dealings with individuals and officers, might be exposed, to the serious detriment of the publicity in this way would be impossible, and as such services are sometimes indispensable to the Toyorfment, its agents in those services must look for their compensation to the contines indispensable to the Toyorfment employing them, and to such

Mr. Justice Field delivered the opinion.

John D. McLemore va. The Louisians State Bank—Eriror to the District Court for the district of Louisians.—
It is unnecessary to consider whether in all respects the charge of the Circuit Court to the jury was correct, because the record shows the case of the plaintiff to be so facility defective that the judgment below would not be reversed for instructions, however errosecons. (Brobst va. Brock, 10 Wallace, 519; Decatur Bank va. St. Louis Bank, 21 Wallace,

201.) The case is this:—The plaintiff was the owner of certain promissory notes and acceptances in possession of the commercial firm in New Orleans of which he was a member, which were pledged by the firm in 1841 and 1862 to the bank as accurity for money loaned to them. This paper was not mot at maturity, and, with the collaterats pledged for its repayment, remained in possession of the bank until the 11th of June, 1863, when the bank was put in liquidation by order of Major General Banks, and its effects transferred to military commissioners appointed to close it up. The others of the bank, while submitting to this order, because they had no power to resist it, deemed it unjust and oppressive and entered a protest against it on their minutes. During the administration of the affairs of the bank by the commissioners the pledged paper was sold for less than its face. In January, 1866, the military liquidation ceased by order of Major General Casby and the effects of the bank which were unadministered were restored to the corporators. The plaintiff, on the theory that the securities were parted with fliegally, seeks to make the bank responsible for the proceedings of the commissioners. But this he cannot do. Certainly no act was done, or omitted to be done by the bank inconsistent with its duty, for it was only bound to take that care of the pledge which a careful man bestows on his own property. The superior force set up by the bank as a reason for not returning the pledge is sufficient, and discharged the bank. It was in the midst of war, and there was no course left but submission under protest, as was done by the bank. there was no course left but submission unde as was done by the bank.

Mr. Justice Davis delivered the opinion.

BLACKWELL'S ISLAND.

ALLEGED ILL TREATMENT OF NURSES IN THE LU-NATIC ASYLUM.

Miss Susannah Saunders called at the HERALD office yesterday and made the following statement regarding the conduct of the officers of the Lunatic Asylum on Blackwell's Island:—She said that before going to the asylum as an attendant she had tried to carn a living at uphoistering, but that business becoming very dull she was forced to look eisewhere for employment, and finally succeeded in gaining it as a nurse at the institu-tion named. She said she had not been there long till she found that, in addition to the occasional danger inshe found that, in addition to the occasional danger involved in attendance on the insane, her position was rendered still more unpleasant by the treatment received from the male officials, who seemed to view the female attendants as if they were under their entere control, and not entitled to any respect whatever.
Dr. Parsons, who is the Medical Superintendent, she says treats the nurses with supreme contempt; makes no suntable provision for them as females, and speaks to them as no gentlemen should. Her hope is that when to shall find that the public know of the facts he may be induced to treat them as respectable women. She next spoke of Dr. Bohannan, an assistant of Dr. Parsons, as insulting in his talk and demeanor toward the female nurses, adding that she had personally been grievonely insulted by him. Dr. Arnoid, she said, is more respectful and also much more truthful than either of the above in his deatings with the nurses. Dr. James, she said, had proved himself a gentleman in his treatment of them; as had Anthony Allaire, who, formerly a warden, is now an officer in the Workhouse. There was profound regret among all the respectable nurses when he retired. In conclusion, she said that the full record of outrageous rascality on the Jisland among those who should be examples to the people who are forced to be there had never been told, for the reason that those who know the most of it fear to speak. In the Lunatic Asylum, she said, there are about forty-two attendants, all never been told, for the reason that those who know the most of it fear to speak. In the Lunatic Asylum, she said, there are about forty-two attendants, all females; that, with the exception of slight intermissions for meals, they are engaged from six A. M. until nine P. M.; that their duties in care of the insame are onerous and often dangerous, rendered more so by the example of the officials lack of respect for them; that those in ball No. 6 got $20 per month for their services, and the others $1d. Speaking of other than the Lunatic Asylum, she said there was a great deal of "badness" going on in the Charity Hospital, and a great deal of improper treatment of the nurses in the Retreat. In making her complaint to Dr. Parsons and proposing to leave unless treated with propriety by the officials, she says that she was ordered to retire immediately, and that, too, though ner face was still marked by blows received from a violent patient.

JANE STREET METHODIST EPISCO-PAL CHURCH.

The anniversary services of the Jane street Methodist Episcopal church took place hat evening, and were well attended. The Sunday school children, to the number of 500, assembled in the basement of the church, where they sang several bymns, under the direction of William H. Ely, superintendent, and Captain See, chorister. They were each presented with a bouquet, and then marched in a body to the gallery of the church. The Rev. W. W. Seever presided and preached the anniversary sermon. The singing consisted of "All hall the power of Jesus' name," "Forward All," "Our Duty," "Praise the Lord" and "sisthering Home." Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Win. H. Mickle and Rev. R. C. Booth. Mr. Chauncy Schaffer, the well-known lawyer, opened the services with a fervent prayer. The Rev. J. S. Inskip and the Rev. John E. Searles, the prosent paster of the church, preached. The Rev. Mr. Field related his experiences of iffly years ago, and gave a history of the venerable old church and its doings since 1820. Mr. Searles, the present paster of the church twenty-two years ago, and yesterday was his second Sunday with his old Rock. Services of a similar character were held in the evening. The church is the oldest one on the east side of the city, and is entirely free from debt.

FUN IN NEWTOWN CREEK.

The crowd at the site of Penny Bridge, which has been removed for repairs, was very great yesterday, though everything was much quieter than on the Sunday previous. The large numbers who desired to cross the creek to Calvary Cometery were compelled to take rowboats over the creek, and the struggle between the rowbosts over the creek, and the struggle between the rival beatmen for the patronage of the pilgrims was so great that few who went over chose the same route back again, but took the Calvary Cemetery Park road to Hunter's Point, and thence to William-burg. Several fights took place at the boat landings during the afternoon; but Captain Worth, of the Sixth precinct, had placed three policemen at the landing, and they quickly quelled any such disturbances, leeling compelled to arrest only one young man, a German, during the entire day, and him for renewing a fight with a bostman after the police had once separated them. It is hoped that the bridge will be in position by next Sunday, completed and ready for travel.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEIT NOTES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HYBALD

To the Editor of the Renald The Please caution the public in general about taking five dollar bills on the First National Bank of Northampton, Mass., and the Merchants' National Bank of New Bedford, Mass.

I am a cashier in a prominent store on Grand street, and, not being a very good judge of money, I have been swindled with counterfeits on each of the above banks, Yours very truly,
